First, the empty room.

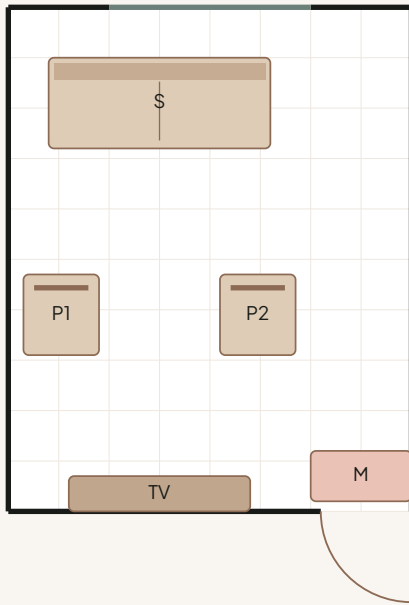

TEACHING STUDY

The window divides wall A into 1.00 + 2.00 + 1.00 m. The sum should match the 4.00 m overall dimension. On wall C, 3.10 m of wall + a 0.90 m opening = 4.00 m.

01 / BLOCKED ACCESS

Identify the conflict

On the left, the table occupies the entry path. An outward-opening door does not solve access into the room.

02 / CLEAR ACCESS

Test the revision

On the right, the same table returns to the central arrangement. The side route is free of furniture.

Exercise: before judging the aesthetics, trace the plan as if you were entering, sitting down and standing up. Mark where an action becomes blocked.
